Blow into a good cause:

We want to thank you for your interest in our products. In this package, is all the information you need about our company and how to start your own. Driving under the influence and the use of illicit drugs are real problems our society is facing. Everyday, we hear about D.U.I. awareness and about the accidents caused by alcohol. In an effort to reduce those accidents, most Canadian provinces have imposed a 0.05% blood alcohol concentration limit to drivers.

This is why the introduction of alcohol detectors in Canada is on the road to a great success. Think about it: there's basically no competition in the market! Consumers are delighted when they discover our breathalyzers. The Canadian market is just waiting to be exploited and you have the possibility to financially succeed with our revolutionary devices.

Even though date-rape drugs have been around for decades, up until now, Canadians had no way to find out if their drinks were drugged. Now, Alco Prevention Canada is giving them the opportunity to test their drinks and protect themselves against drug-related assaults.

We also offer enterprises the detection tools they need to test their employees for drug use. Ensuring a safe working environment should always be a priority for any business owner and, with the help of our products, their job is automatically made easier.

We are looking for dynamic individuals or enterprises that will bring innovative ideas to make a successful partnership. Alco Prevention Canada, a division of Alcotest Québec, has more than 20 years of expertise and a unique experience in the market. Today, we benefit from the trust of thousands of partners throughout Canada and you could have access to this lucrative market.

Should you need more information, do not hesitate to contact us. It will be a pleasure for us to answer your queries.

THE STATISTICS

Even with all the awareness campaigns led by the government and other groups, drunk driving remains the first cause of fatal road accidents in Canada. In fact, in 2006, drunk driving was the cause of 37% of fatal accidents and of 20% of accidents causing injuries, resulting in 1 278 deaths and 75 374 injured people. The social cost of D.U.I.-related accidents comes to a hefty 500 million Canadian dollars.

Every night, in Canada, 25% of drivers are driving under the influence: incredible, isn't it?

Of course, with the help of the dozens of awareness campaigns led by different groups and the legal B.A.C.* limit passing from 0.08% to 0.05% Canada has gained significant control over D.U.I. offenders.

The costs of compensations given to D.U.I. victims is estimated around 100 million Canadian dollars per province. Men aged over 25 years with an average B.A.C. of 0.17% (more than 3 times the actual legal limit) represent the majority of drivers who die.

As you can see, the situation is a lot more dramatic than it may seem. There is a lot left to do to reduce these alarming numbers and it is for this reason that we wish to make alcohol detectors available to everyone. In fact, everyone knows when they have reached an advanced state of drunkenness but very few know when they reach the legal limit of 0.05%. It is with this line of thought that we wish to develop one of the most lucrative markets: licensed establishments.

The law imposes a limit of 0.05% but consumers need instruments to measure their B.A.C.. Could you even think of respecting the 100km/h limit on the road without an odometer?

Date-rape drug use is a growing concern in Canada. In fact, since 1999, the seizures of GHB – one of the most commonly used date-rape drugs – went up by 400%. Our product, the Drink Detective, can detect GHB along with ketamine and more than 60 drugs in the benzodiazepine group. The deterrence program we are promoting with it aims at reducing the number of abuses and abusers. About 15% of rapes that are declared are the result of "drink spiking". The numbers are small compared to what is actually happening on the bar scene as approximately 9 out of 10 assaults are not reported. Alco Prevention Canada is the only distributor of a device such as the Drink Detective in Canada and you could be part of it.

Substance abuse in the workplace is taking more importance in our society as 200 000 Canadians were addicted to illicit drugs in 2002. In a survey, nearly a quarter of the worked interviewed said they believed that the use of illicit drugs in their workplace represented a moderate to alarming problem. What Alco Prevention is aiming at is providing the business owners with the tools to detect those drugs in their employees' systems so they can help them deal with their addiction as well as setting up an effective deterrence program in the workplace.

At, Alco Prevention Canada, we have the expertise and experience to successfully commercialize prevention and detection tools for alcohol and illicit drugs.

We have started our company by setting up a wide network of commercial breathalyzers installed in hundreds of restaurants and bars in the province of Québec. Since 1989, our products have made a name for themselves as reliable and effective devices. They work just as the breathalyzers used by police officers. The users need a 2$ coin to use the device. In 2005, with the addition of the Alco-Tube to our catalog, we won the SME Marketing prize in Québec, a prize given by the American Marketing Association (AMA) and the Prix Performance marketing, given by the Chambre de Commerce de Laval.

With our wall-mounted breathalyzers we are determined to reduce the number of road accidents caused by drivers under the influence.

For more than 20 years we have offered and still are offering the best products in prevention and detection of alcohol and drugs.

1. Single-use breathalyzers, sold in more than 5000 sales points in the USA, including most pharmacies in the east of Canada and every Wal-Mart in North America.
2. Personal electronic breathalyzers such as the AQ-08, the AQ-08 Mini, the AQ-08 Pro and the AQ-08 Pro+
3. Commercial wall-mounted breathalyzers
4. Drug tests offered to enterprises and corporations
5. The Drink Detective™, a test for date-rape drugs contained in drinks

THE DRINK DETECTIVE™

The Drink Detective™ is the only test in the world that detects the most commonly abused drugs that are used to spike drinks for the purpose of rape, robbery or other crimes.

The test detects the presence of the following drugs when dissolved in a drink: gamma hydroxybuturate (GHB). Ketamine and the more than 60 drugs in the benzodiazepine group that includes Rohypnol®, Valium®, Xanax® and Clonopin®.

The Drink Detective looks for traces of the three most commonly used groups of drug- rape drugs: Benzodiazepines (including Rohypnol, Valium and Xanax), GHB (gamma-hydroxyl-butyrate), and ketamine. The Drink Detective is the first test that will detect the presence of three drug types in a wide range of drinks; and will detect them at quantities that can incapacitate you.

No one expects a woman to test every drink. In fact, we recommend using the Drink Detective only in two circumstances: if you have a reason to suspect that your drink has been spiked or if you have a stronger than expected reaction to a drink. The drugs take about 20 minutes to incapacitate you and if you find that a drink has been spiked, you would have time to get help—either from a friend or from bar staff who could call the police and ensure that you were not left alone until you got to safety.

If everyone carried a Drink Detective when drinking—in public or at a private event, drink spikers would think twice about carrying out their foul crime. Deterrence is the key.

How does the test work?

Just unfold the test card and, with the dropper provided, deposit a drop of your drink on each of the testing pads. Evaluate and interpret each color change with the instructions on the test.

THE 6-PANEL DRUG TEST

This is a rapid screening test for the simultaneous detection of drugs in human saliva. It is a pre-test recommended for enterprises wishing to test their employees before having lab tests performed. It helps reduce the costs of drug screening, as the employer won't choose to send in the employees who get negative results for lab tests.

This device detects up to 6 different families of drugs (methamphetamines, opiates, cocaine, PCP, amphetamines and THC). The test takes approximately 5 minutes to perform and the results are instant. The Multi Panel Saliva Screening test can tell if the subject has used any of these substances within the last 36-48 hours.

- Simple 2-part packaging
- 18-24 month shelf life
